BookCirculation. Pass It On!

When: 21 June 2025, 20:00 - 01:00

Where: OSiR Świerklany, ul. Piekarnicza 1, 44-266 Świerklany

Who: Jakub Szulik, eco-manager of the Municipality of Świerklany

One book, many stories. "Book Circulation: Pass It On!" is an initiative that gives books a second life, encouraging people to share literature instead of letting books collect dust on shelves. It is also a practical example of the circular economy, where instead of discarding, we pass items on, reducing waste and unnecessary production.

Libraries will be involved in organizing book exchange points, making it easy for participants to bring books they no longer need and take home new titles that interest them. This is a great opportunity to discover new books and refresh a home library without the need to buy new copies.

Why participate?

- Extend the life of books – reduce paper waste and unnecessary consumption.
- Save money – get new reading material without spending a penny.
- Support sustainability – help reduce paper production emissions and save natural resources.
- Encourage sharing – promote a culture of responsible consumption.

By participating in Book Circulation, attendees actively contribute to reducing the demand for new paper production, which is linked to deforestation, energy use, and carbon emissions. Keeping books in circulation means fewer waste materials and less strain on natural resources.

This event is open to everyone—whether you're a book lover, an occasional reader, or someone who simply wants to give their books a second chance. Bring a book, take a book, and pass it on!

This event is organized as part of the LIFE project "Silesia. Blue Sky Restored."
