Reuse Hub: Things in Good Hands

When: 1 June 2025, 9:00 - 13:00

Where: Targowisko Miejskie, ul. Gzichowska, 42-500 Będzin

Who: Romuald Baran, eco-manager of the Municipality of Będzin

Do you have books, toys, or plants at home that you no longer need? "Reuse Hub: Things in Good Hands" is an event that allows items to be reused and reduces the amount of waste at the same time.

At the Będzin City Market, specially designated exchange zones will be set up, where residents can donate, exchange, or find new items in accordance with the principles of the circular economy and zero waste.

Exchange Zones:

- Book Exchange Zone – A place for literature lovers. Participants can leave books they've already read and take new ones in return. The exchange includes children's literature, nonfiction, fiction, guides, and albums. It's an opportunity to refresh a home library without purchasing new books.
- Plant and Seedling Exchange Zone – Indoor plants, flower seedlings, herbs, and even seeds. Participants can donate or exchange plants that no longer fit in their homes or gardens and receive new ones to enrich their green space. The zone will also feature gardening tips and advice on plant care.
- Toy Exchange Zone – A space where children and parents can exchange toys, board games, puzzles, and educational accessories. Many items that children outgrow are still in good condition and can bring joy to others. This is an opportunity to avoid unnecessary purchases while promoting sustainable consumption and reuse of resources.

Why Participate?

- Reduce Waste & Overproduction – Exchanging items helps reduce waste and overproduction, lowering the carbon footprint.
- Give Books a Second Life – Books find new readers instead of sitting on shelves or ending up in the trash.
- Sustainable Toy Use – Toys get reused, promoting sustainable consumption.
- More Greenery in the City – Plants and seedlings find new homes, increasing urban greenery and improving air quality and microclimate.

Reuse Hub is not just an ecological initiative but also an opportunity to strengthen local community ties, build responsible consumption habits, and promote the zero waste philosophy.

“Reuse Hub: Things in Good Hands” is a simple initiative that makes a real difference – less waste, less wastefulness, and more conscious choices.

This event is organized as part of the LIFE project "Silesia. Blue Sky Restored."
