Workshop: The Po river in the audiovisual narration of the 21st century. A case study: Delta by Michele Vannucci (2022)

The workshop is part of a research project which consists in the mapping and enhancement of the contemporary audiovisual heritage, from 2000 up to the present, which considers the Po River as a central feature of cinematographic narration. In collaboration with the Interregional Agency for the Po River (AIPO), the project aims to survey and promote the audiovisual production related to that theme. The workshop includes a specific case study: the film Delta by Michele Vannucci (Italia, 2022).
