This year's EU Green Week is all about the circular economy. With its potential to boost sustainable competitiveness, reduce waste and foster innovation, the circular economy offers a compelling solution to some of the EU's most pressing challenges.

We invite you to register both as an active participant (presentation, poster) and as an audience member. During the conference there will be a competition for the best abstract.

Authors have the opportunity to publish their work in journals:

- Veterinary Medicine – Science and Practice <http://www.medycynawet.edu.pl/>
- European Journal of Medical Technologies <http://www.medical-technologies.eu/publishing-house,116.html>

Articles are accepted for publication following positive peer review. Journals are subject to publication charges.

If you have any questions, please contact by e-mail: GreenWeekinLublin@wp.pl

Best regards,
