Text

Collaboration is the new competition. At BlueCity, we take that literally. Join us on the first Thursday of every month for the BlueCity Townhall, where like-minded individuals with circular ambitions come together. From start-up to SME-entrepreneur, policy maker to ngo: our doors are open to anyone with a genuine interest in creating new collaborations and helping others succeed. Learn about the newest projects from BlueCitizens, make new connections, and enjoy informal conversations in a relaxed atmosphere at Bar Stroom. First drink is on us!

Program

The theme of this Townhall is "Regeneration in Conversation." We'll explore topics like regenerative farming, agriculture, food systems, and how regeneration can play a key role in the transition to a circular economy. Speakers and details will be shared soon.
